Mr. Bauman Lowe Belden:

Dear Sir,

As professor of Numismatics in Syracuse University, and for many years a student and Lecturer upon this science, I wish to call your attention to the remarkable collection of Aes Grave, in the possession of Dr. Haeberlin, near Frankfort. I had the pleasure of seeing this collection just before the outbreak of the war, and you doubtless know its unique character. I am writing because I am anxious to have this collection secured for America, and its home should be in New York. A letter from Adolph Hess Nachfolger, 49 Mainzerlandstr., Frankfurt, Germany, informs me that the collection is now for sale. You can address him, and I hope that in due time I may be able to see this most valuable collection in the American Numismatic Society.

With best wishes I am

Yours Sincerely,

Jeremiah Zimmerman.

My dear Sir:-

Please accept my thanks for your letter of May 1st regarding Dr. Haeberlin's collection.

I will bring this matter to the attention of the Council at its next meeting.

Very truly yours,

Secretary.

Dear Sir:-

The first monthly meeting of our Society in the fall occurs on the fourth hundredth anniversary of the nailing of Luther's Theses on the Door of the Cathedral at Wittenberg. It has been thought very desirable that our Society take as its subject for this meeting "Coins and Medals relating to Luther and the Reformation". It has also been suggested that we ask some one to present the historical significance of the Reformation in a lecture or paper, and our thought has turned to you as the one best prepared adequately to treat this subject, without losing sight of the numismatic point of contact. Would you be willing to prepare such a paper, using illustrations of the period and locality, and whenever possible referring to medals or their reproductions such as we should be able to provide you? We believe this can be made a very interesting evening, and trust that the subject will make such an appeal to you as to bring a favorable response.

Yours very sincerely,

President.

Dear Dr. Zimmerman:-

Thank you for your letter of July 12th, and for your promise to prepare a talk for the Luther quadricentennial meeting on November 1st. We shall, of course, wish to bear your railway expenses - I regret that our Society is not in a position to offer you an honorarium as well.

You understand, I feel sure, the importance of keeping in the foreground the numismatic side of this turning point of the Reformation. Should we be able to send you any printed material, we shall gladly do so if you will let us know what you desire. We early felt that there was no one else to whom we could turn for an adequate treatment of this subject with so great a degree of assurance. We are confident that this opening meeting of the coming winter will prove most interesting and helpful.

Thank you for the desire you expressed of meeting me. I shall look forward to welcoming you here, and to discussing the questions which you may have regarding the coinage of Alexander.

Yours very cordially,

President.

Dear Dr. Zimmerman:-

For the purpose of preparing an announcement of your coming lecture before our Society, will you kindly inform me as to the wording you would prefer its title to have. An early response would be appreciated.

Mr. Newell has suggested that I explain to you that we propose to leave the entire evening at your disposal - you may therefore count on from forty to fifty minutes in speaking. After closing this as a formal part of the meeting, there will be an informal examination of exhibits and exchange of greetings.

Yours very sincerely,

Secretary.

Dear Dr. Zimmerman:-

I take pleasure in sending you herewith a cheque for twenty-five dollars as a partial return for your expenses in connection with your recent lecture before our Society. There were many expressions of the pleasure which we all felt in listening to the presentation of your subject, and I am confident that not one of those present felt other than that his evening had been most profitably spent. Please feel that we shall be always glad to welcome you whenever you may come to New York.

With cordial personal regards, and with renewed thanks for the delightful evening you gave us, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Secretary.

Mr. Sydney P. Noe:

My dear Friend,

Pardon me for not acknowledging your enclosure at once for I have been crowded for time and I knew that your check would be your receipt. But your very kind words in addition to the enclosure were too much appreciated to be passed over in silence, and I want to assure you that I shall be happy to avail myself of the hearty invitations given me to visit your most attractive museum. Your President won me at our first meeting in Sep., and you are fortunate in having a man with his unusual qualifications, means and devotion to the Society.

Again thanking you for your letter and enclosure, and hoping for a reunion I am

Yours Sincerely,

Jeremiah Zimmerman

To the American Numismatic society:

Gentlemen,

You may well imagine my happy surprise when I received a copy of the American Journal of Numismatics for 1915.

My happiness was increased when I opened it and saw the excellent portrait medal of your distinguished President, Mr. Edward Newell. I shall always cherish it because of that portrait, so full of the character of the man, and so worthy of the frontispiece.

I need not tell you that the contents of the vol. interested me, but naturally that carefully written and elaborate article on the Symbolism of Greek Coins. I had read much on the subject, and therefore I could appreciate the more the value of the research, and careful judgments expressed by the learned writer. Such women should always have had the right to vote, and with such a judicial mind I wish she might be able to vote many times in place of some unworthy men who should be disfranchised. But, the kingdom is coming, and women will enter into their heritage. I shall read the article again..

Thanking you most heartily for your kind consideration I am

Yours Sincerely,

Jeremiah Zimmerman
